SIR,

With reference to Government order No: 4-5 D. (28) dt. 7.7.92 of 7th October 1893, revising the scale of the Indigenous Hospital at Mysore, I have the honor to submit herewith the marginally noted correspondence regarding its revision and to state as follows.

2. As stated by the superintendent, I am of opinion that the assistant pandit has some responsibility in the discharge of his duties, and that his pay may be raised from Rs 12 to 15 per month. The pay of the compounders attached to the Hospital may be raised from Rs 7 to 10 per month by annual increment of R.1, and peons may get an increase of Rs one each.

3. An assistant pandit is attached to the Kannada branch, such is not the case with regard to the Unani one, though the work turned out in each is very nearly equal. An assistant Hakim on Rs 15 may

Sir,

With reference to your No. 900 Dated 29th October 1897, asking me to state my reasons for recommending increases of pay to the Assistant native Pandit &c attach. to the Indigenous Hospital as per my letter No. 51 D/ 4th ultimo, I have the honor to state that the Assistant Pandit and Compounders have not had their increases for the last 5 years. The indigenous medicines must be prepared now and then for the use of patients, and that the efficacy of them will not be so good as we expect, if they are kept too long, and to prepare these medicines a man must have great experience. The assistan

Assistant Pandit not only clever in preparing native medicines but he is an experienced man. He has acted several times for the Pandit whenever he had taken leave, fell sick &c and that he has discharged his duties satisfactorily during the absence of the Pandit. He gets now Rs: 12, which is not remunerative to his labor and that I would strongly recommend his pay be raised from 12 to 20 Rs. Rs 15.

The starting pay of Compounders attached to other L. F. Dispensaries is Rs: 8 per mensem with an annual increment of one rupee up to Rs: 12. The Compounders of this Hospital have not had their increase though they have worked satisfactorily for the last 5 years. They are entitled to get an increase from 7 to Rs: 10 each, like other Compounders employed in the L. F. Dispensaries.

The menial servants find very difficult to live upon in these days with Rs: 5, which they get & Complain that they can get better labor elsewhere, & their pay may also be raised from 5 to 6 Rs: per mensem.

The hakim now Complains that he finds difficulty to prepare medicines himself in addition to his heavy work of prescribing to patients both morning & evening. The unani medicines are being prepared in the Hakim's house up till now. On several occasions, I have asked him to prepare them in the Hospital, but he has often told me that he finds no time to prepare them in the Hospital. My object of employing an assistant to the Hakim is this; first, it would be more safe if medicines are prepared in the hospital in my presence, as is done in the Carnatic branch; secondly, the students who are to be trained will have free access to look to all the medicines that are prepared for the hospital use, and also they can be properly taught the way of preparing them &c; thirdly, there must be one to look after the work of the Hakim whenever he gets sick or takes leave; and lastly, the works of Pandits and Compounders cannot be lessened in any way by utilizing the services of students for they will not be allowed to prepare or distribute medicines to patients unless they are found qualified.

Under

Under these reasons. I recommend that an apsistant to the hakim on a monthly Salary of Rs: 15 is absolutely necessary in the unani branch.

A proposition statement has already submitted with my letter No. 51 D/ 4th ultimo for your kind approval and submission to Government for sanction.
